THE INTERNATIONAL ASSOCIATION FOR TRUANCY AND DROPOUT PREVENTION (IATDP) is an international association of educators, government officials and other community stakeholders. Originally established as the, National League of Compulsory Education Officials, in 1911 by Mr. William L. Bodine, of Chicago, IATDP is committed to providing student support personnel with the necessary resources, tools, and strategies needed to support learning, academic enrichment, student engagement, student attendance, and increase high school graduation rates.

OUR PURPOSE

- 1. To support and encourage improvements in student support services.
- 2. To maintain and improve professional standards of practice and qualifications for student support personnel.
- 3. To serve as a resource in the dissemination of information relative to student service workers (administration, attendance, social health and counseling).
- 4. To promote the prevention of truancy and dropping out of school as valid specialities within the field of education.
